

Advice centre

Parents who have questions about how to improve their child's language skills can bring their child to the Christian-Morgenstern School advice centre once he or she is three years old.

After carrying out a comprehensive assessment we talk to the parents about possible measures, such as:

- Self-help guidance
- Early assistance measures
- Non-residential remedial language courses
- Cooperation with schools and nursery schools
- The possibility of admission to the nursery school or the Christian-Morgenstern School

We also provide advice to teachers, nursery school teachers, and therapists, etc.

Nursery school for children with speech and language difficulties

As well as undertaking day-to-day activities in a small group, the children receive remedial language assistance, such as:

- Special needs speech therapy
- Development of sensory perception skills
- Stimulation of psychic and motor functions

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays the nursery school ends at 2:00 p.m.

On these days the children have lunch at the school.

Minibuses are provided to bring them to school and to take them back home.

School for children with speech and language difficulties

Tuition in line with the syllabus of primary and secondary schools is provided in small classes. As part of the teaching the pupils are given one-to-one remedial linguistic support that may take the form of:

- Special needs speech therapy
- Development of sensory perception skills
- An enhanced range of physical activities (e.g. stimulation of psychic and motor functions)
- Horse riding therapy

Active parental involvement is part and parcel of the work of the Christian-Morgenstern School. Lunch is offered on days when there is tuition in the afternoons.

Transport to the school and back is provided in minibuses. The CMS special educational needs service works in cooperation with all schools.
